

Steve Cartwright

The man with one nostril

Today I made a hole in the garden
Here it is I said
Digging it up
You have it for you have only one nostril

Thank you he said
Politely taking the hole
I shall stick it up my nostril
As I do not currently seem to have the requisite amount

But wait
The hole was of such ginormous proportion in relation to his nostril needs that a very large part of it stuck out in front of him like a chasm
Pass me the scissors he said and snipped the overhanging bit off We'll save that for when the drains bung up